Our children remember in love. These young people are all “subsequent siblings.” As under 5 year olds in 2001, they were in awe of our angel. Their families were instrumental in making SA’s Angel Garden a reality for lasting peace and comfort. Gathering, once again, by the angel, they light the candle in memory of their precious siblings.

*But instead feel the rustle of your wings and hear the whispers of the babies
So soft ... so near ... like feathers falling from the sky
Letting your warmth surround them
in a wave of newfound hope
As gentle as the breeze ... as sure as the sunrise.*

Roses of Honor
Loving our Babies
Grieving Healing

Jeff and Margaret Lowe
In memory of Nathan Zachary Lowe

Chris and Ana Wright
In memory Jocquin Kinkead Wright

The white roses represent the innocence of our special babies and the innocence we have lost. They are the raw, new grief and the nearness of Heaven as we take the initial steps down grief's path. The lavender roses represent the serenity we all hope to find, and the peace that healing can bring. Their delicate hue reminds us of preciousness of our children's lives - the love, the joy, and the bittersweet memories of a too-brief life and its eternal imprint on each of our hearts. For I carry you in my heart,

SA’s children are a very special part of our group. When our baby dies, some parents have living children, and other couples experience the death of their first baby. We all are concerned about how this grief will impact our evolving family. SA encourages parents to be truthful and open about their experience. Our precious babies will always be a part of our family, and forever in our hearts. Today, many of these children and their parents have come to remember and to honor their special baby. 10 Year Angel Garden Anniversary
October 23, 2011*

There'll come a time, I promise you.
When you will hold my hand.
Stroke my face and kiss my lips.
And then you will understand..

Although my body you can't hold.
You may not be able to gaze into my eyes.
That doesn't mean I never "was"
An angel never dies....
